Updated Zoning Code

Following Village Board approval on September 9, more than two years of work by staff, the Plan Commission and Village Board to seek public input about the 1988 Zoning Code has been completed. The 1988 Code, which was amended from time to time over the last 37 years required a comprehensive review as the Village has adopted new community goals, objectives, and strategies over the years in response to organic development, market trends and new technologies. The decision to undertake the comprehensive update was in response to the need for streamlined procedures that would be user-friendly and serve the residents, business community, realtors, and commercial developers.

Development & Planning Services staff have spent the past week since Village Board approval building a webpage for the new Zoning Code which will go live on Monday morning, September 22 (while still providing access to the old Zoning Code for those who started the application processes under the prior Zoning Code). In addition to the new Zoning Code, a new Application Manual has been developed to accompany the Zoning Code. This Manual will also be available beginning Monday morning online replacing the older application forms.

Thank you to the entire staff from DPS, as well as other Village departments including Public Works, Police, and Fire and the Village Attorney for their work and significant time commitment throughout this process.

Annual Police Trainings

On two occasions per year, all sworn Police Officers and 911 Dispatchers have mandatory training days in areas essential to their duties and oftentimes required by law. Over the past two weeks, the Police Department completed the second training of 2025 with training areas such as certifications in defensive tactics, less than lethal use of force (tasers), use of force, and other internal administrative categories.

Police Sergeant Promotional Testing Underway

The Village contracts with a third-party Law Enforcement testing company every three years to conduct a promotional exam process for current Northbrook Police Officers in compliance with State law as well as the promotional procedures as established in the Rules and Regulations of the Northbrook Board of Fire and Police Commissioners. At completion of this process, a ranked list of eligible officers to be promoted to Police Sergeant will be established and promotions will be made in order to fill vacancies when they occur.
